

THE BOURBON NEWS.

SEMI-WEEKLY.

VOL. I.

PARIS, BOURBON COUNTY, KENTUCKY: TUESDAY, AUGUST 15, 1882.

NO. 47.

Frost has already fallen in northern Minnesota.

THE CLAY caught 66 fine bass out of Houston, last week.

FRANK CARR sold 218 tickets for the camp-meeting Sunday.

WILL POLK has sold his half of the Lexington News, to Geo. Flannely, his partner.

THE grain threshers are running again, and the steady stream of wagons keep pouring in.

DOGS without any breath in their bodies, are worn a good deal just now, by the back lots of our city.

IT is estimated that the gross receipts of the K. C. on Sunday were $2,000 in consequence of the camp-meeting.

AN excursion leaves Cincinnati, over the C. H. & D. route for Niagara Falls, on the 17th inst. Fare only $6 the round trip.

TEN car loads of new steel rails were received last week at Maysville, and are being put down on the M. & L. branch of the K. C.

SELLS BRO'S circus which showed here in the spring, will strike the State again in September, and will show at Stanford the 22nd.

THE committee to settle for damages for right of way for the K. C. extension, gave Jos. Mitchell $2,500 for 8 acres, and W. K. Griffith $1,331 for 4 1/2 acres.

SETCHELL, the Superintendent of the K. C. road, has resigned on account of ill health, and G. W. Bender, the late Secretary, has been appointed to fill the vacancy.

IN searching the river at Cynthiana for the remains of a boy supposed to have been drowned, the skeleton of a man was found. No clue to either has been developed.

WHEN a game of base ball shows a score of 16 to 37, it shows that our Paris boys came within a Georgetown-grazer of getting badly left. Disband, boys, and go a fishing.

IN Cincinnati potatoes are $1. 50 a barrel; cabbage 50 cents a barrel; and tomatoes 75 cents a bushel. When they get that cheap here, we're going to buy us a peck or two.

SEVENTY-FIVE little chromo peddlers were on the town Saturday. It is suspected that they were secret emissaries playing their vocation in behalf of the 2-times-a-week Kentuckian.

ALL officers elect of the county, are required by law to get certificate of election and give bond before the first day of September, or their election will be declared void, and the offices vacant.

IN consequence of the barbers breaking their compact and having opened their shops for business on Sunday, Henry Daum desires to inform his customers that he will open for business next Sunday.

THREE men (Sam Bell, Smith Kenney, and Ike Cunningham,) were talking the other day, and all agreed that if they had to drop three of their papers and cling to one, that one would be the BOURBON NEWS.

OUR new depot will be ready for use by the fair. By the way there ought to be a premium offered for a ring of depots at our fair. We would like to show against Muir's Station's best two-years-old for a silver plated tin cup.

THE Lexington Guards will also attend the Blue Licks Centennial. Why can't the new companies at Maysville and Mt. Sterling also turn out and fall into line on that occasion?—LATER. The Maysville company will be there.

NOW those of us who waited for the tobacco and wheat to be sold to get money, will have to continue to wait until the coming hog and tobacco is sold, while in the mean time Christ may come according to Barnes' prediction, and we then won't need any money.

THE United States Circus, belonging to Myers & Shorb, exhibiting in Louisville, was attached in two suits last week, first by J. B. Jeffery, of Buffalo, for printing, $3,964, and the second by Tallock, Chandler & Co., of Chicago, for wood engraving $212. The managers gave bond for the amount of indebtedness and went on with the show.

FOR the fourth time Crab Orchard Springs were sold yesterday. This time they were knocked off to Hon. W. N. Haldeman, of the Courier-Journal, who represents a Louisville syndicate. The price paid is $26,000 for the realty and $3,500 for personality, which is $7,000 more than they brought at the last sale. As it was made by decree of court, we suppose this is a finality.—[Interior Journal.]

Parks' Hill Camp-Meeting.

Sunday was the greatest day in the annals of the camp-meeting at Parks' Hill. The crowd was variously estimated—the figures ranging from 7,000 to 10,000. The K. C. railroad conveyed fifty-two car loads, which may with safety be estimated at sixty passengers to the car, and aggregating 2,120. To this, add the 1,200 remaining in camp over Saturday night, and we have 4,320. There were probably 2,000 persons that came in private conveyances, thus making the aggregate of 6,320, which no doubt is but a fair estimate.

There never was a more orderly or select congregation on the grounds, and officers of the association are justly proud of the great success they have achieved.

Bishop McTearie, from the South, presided at the morning services, and his sermon was listened to with great interest by the 2,000 seated in the auditorium, and at least 500 standing near by.

SCAMP SQUINTULATIONS.

One pretty Josie didn't wear a pretty "Josie."

Watermelons were plentiful and in demand.

There wasn't a drunken man on the grounds.

Mother Hubbard pokes were cutely in abundance.

One hour of justice is worth seventy years of prayer.

The hotel was run for money—not for glory, this time.

A lady rented a pillow and two quilts for a dollar, Sunday night.

The Rev. "Jap" Current, was the camp reporter for the Maysville Bulletin.

The dining hall was jammed, jammed and damned for four solid, hot hours.

Old Mother Hubbard would have recognized lots of acquaintances Sunday.

The girl who wore the biggest bangs, had the biggest holes in her stockings.

Five newspaper men, one "Sheep," and a Thomas cat slept in the Chapel Sunday.

"I should perspirely eventuate," was the camp phrase among the gum-chewers.

Dr. Bruce Stone telegraphed to Carlisle for one dollar's worth of tolu, for his female friends.

The gospel solid shots had no effect on the Cincinnati Gazette reporter, because he had Ironsides.

Several Good Samaritans with quart bottles of water, were on missions of mercy at the camp grounds Sunday.

Geo. Rosser, of the Maysville Bulletin had to put up with a single horn—a Fogg horn at that, but will strike a whole brass band in Cincinnati, this week.

The Cynthiana boys stole a valise and broke the combination lock with a rock, and extracted the cigars and whiskey therefrom.

A chimpanzee looking scoundrel with a Seymour coat on, needed to be clubbed to death with a stocking of whitening, for jug-handling a fool girl around the grounds all day.

"You're too positively bully," said a girl with a blood-red "Josie" on, to the half-pint gaudy gawk who handed her a glass of alderney colored lemonade.

The lady with a stocking-leg of whitening and her eyes closed and mouth puckered like a customer in a barber's chair, could be seen in all directions at the camp-meeting Sunday.

Miss Lummie Ross wore a dress Sunday which her mother wore thirty-five years ago. It was embroidered muslin scalloped over a blue satin undershirt. It was cool and refreshing, and was admired probably as much or more than anything on the grounds.

Black stockings and white dresses were worn a great deal by the past-the-meridian belles, which made them appear in deplorable bad taste. In fact the short-dress-and-toe-slipped girl on the top of the hill, wearied the eyes of overgrown youths and widowers at the foot of the hill, with the dark and forbidding scene, and caused those who would have been enraptured admirers under white and tinted balbrigan circumstances, to turn away and daze their eyes on the flashing cardinal, blue, and black-and-gray striped.

Sunday was a regular "Josie" day. There were at least fifty of the dear little bright flashers of all hues, to have been seen on the grounds. They were cut high, low, and medium corsaged, but in all cases tighter than the skin. They were ornamented with pearls, brass, plated, covered, and all conceivable styles in buttons. The belle of the coming spring chicken crop of every haunt and hamlet could be spotted, by the dear, sweet little, eye-dazing, tight-fitting "Josie." They were too cute to handle, and were quite nice enough to eat. Every "lunx" who can procure a little scrap of his dear girls' "Josie" ought to get it and wear it in his pocket book next to his heart.

That scarlet bunting dress with black lace trimmings and velvet skirt, was a regular whooper-up-Liza Jane, and attracted almost as much attention as that freight brakeman with that cardinal woodpecker hat.

The dresses of the campers were pretty much all of the cool refreshing plaid linen de Inde, lawns, and oriental linens. Those from a distance were of a go-as-you-please ball room, picnic, helter-skelter and undo-my-corset-quickly-when-I-get-home costumes. The dear giddy little daisies, whose delight it was to giggle, fan and flirt, figured prominently over the grounds with the half-pint-in-the-hip-pocket-boys in those those flaming little "Josie" jackets of scarlet, pink, cardinal, blue, and rose tinted satins, and looked as though they had but three breaths in their bodies, and would just as soon squander the last one as not, if some fellow had thumped a fiddle string and called out "balance all!"

SOCIETY SCINTILLATIONS.

The Hon. Joe Blackburn was the guest of Judge Turney last night.

Those whose courses are different cannot lay plans for one another.

Maysville papers say that Maysville wants street 'buses. All right. If Maysville will furnish the girls, Paris boys will furnish the busses for the streets or anywhere else.

The country is now filled with college presidents skinning around like dogs in high rye. They all have the most competent corps of instructors, and the finest building in the State.

Rev. J. A. French of Virginia, will preach at the Baptist church next Sunday morning and night. It is very especially desired that all the members be present. The public is most cordially invited to attend.

These nights are so cool and refreshing for late-sleeping of mornings, that every man ought to take a pistol to bed with him to shoot the chamber maid or cook who comes banging on the door to awaken his lordship for breakfast.

A man's live was saved at Lancaster last Friday, by the circus not showing there as per bills.

Robt. Dawson and Miss Annie E. Miller, of Maysville, slipped over into Aberdeen and got married Saturday night, and attended the camp-meeting Sunday. They thought they were playing single very successfully, but the News can always tell 'em.

An Arkansas editor, in retiring from the editorial control of a newspaper, said: "It is with a feeling of sadness that we retire from the control of this paper, but we leave our journal with a gentleman who is able than we are financially, to handle it. This gentleman is well known in this community. He is the sheriff."—[Arkansas Traveler.]

The following persons left here yesterday, on the excursion over the C. & O., for Old Point Comfort, Va., and other points East: Wm. Purnell, Miss Mollie Forman and Miss Henry, Mrs. John Brent, the Misses Bacon and mother, Mrs. Noah Spears, and H. C. Hastings. W. K. Griffith and lady also left at same time and over the same route, for New York.

Dr. Dills and Green Keller, of Carlisle, are reveling in visions of gold and dreaming of mountains of pure sparkling diamonds, in consequence of having discovered an antidote for the superannuated knock-a-man-flat onion breath. Its component parts are essence of cinnamon, creosote, peppermint, balsam copabia, polecat, garlic, limberger cheese, saur kraut, and new mown dog fennel. It said to kill the scent of onions, whiskey, tobacco, and the harvest shirt one hundred yards in a briar patch without a rest. A bottle of their celebrated "Dipsidioricum," will be mailed post paid for twenty-five cents or a bucket of blackberries.

The Trader, Turfman, Farmer and Sportsman.

The hemp crop in Fayette is a light one.

ALEX. MCCLINTOCK, of Millersburg, has twenty Southdown rams for sale. Mules have gone up prodigiously all over the United States, and are really scarcer than ever known before.
